The year ahead and planet retrogrades

2014

Dec. 21 2013 to Jan. 31, 2014, this year starts , a running start with a belly-flop landing, in the icy, cold water of Capricorn with a Retrograde Venus. Wholly confined to Capricorn, this Retrograde Venus sets a tone about looking at what is, what was, and what, possibly, shouldn't be again. Buzz word, what to watch for? Ex-lovers who show up New Year's Eve, birthdays, and other, similar times.

Mars in Libra

Mars entered the Tropical Zodiac sign of Libra on Dec. 8, 2013. Typically, Mars spends about 60 days in a sign, but 2014 isn't typical. Mars doesn't leave Libra until July 25, 2014.

Mars is Retrograde in Libra from March 1 until May 19. There is more to the pattern, though, than just Mars or Venus. Previously referenced Pluto square Uranus, especially with the Mars Retrograde filling out the pattern? Then, just for the sake levity, there's Jupiter, in Cancer, the first half of this year, as well. This is all about cardinal energy.

Cardinal Energy, represented by the cardinal points on a compass, the 4 "Starter" signs? Aries, Cancer, Libra, Capricorn. With this, in the next year, the first half of the year is about Venus Retrograde, then Mercury Retrograde, then Mars Retrograde, then Mercury Retrograde, which covers the first half of the year.

The quickest, shortest message, for the first half of the next year? It's about revising, reviewing, revisiting old situations, projects, feelings. Dealing with the underlying theme, the underpinning issues. Then, too, part of the message is super-simple: changing a thinking pattern about a feeling. What was a negative, in the cold, retrograde light of the first half of this coming year, 2014? What was a negative might be positive, all a matter of perspective.

There are no "good" or "bad" astrology transits. It's a matter of how we answer our challenges.
